

VOTE

To be heard, you need to speak up.

To make a change, you need to be one.

If you can point out a flaw, you sure can resolve it too.

All the loopholes in the system exist, because you abstain yourself from the inconvenience of getting the vote out.

You are the much needed change of tomorrow.

You have the power to bring a new Dawn that will put an end to all the sorrows,

You can be the leader, so why follow.

Raise your voice,

A difference of your choice,

Will surely be the reason of tomorrows rejoice.

So, let's pledge to give our votes out this time and prove our worth as vigilant citizens.

How can we spread this message?

People will cast their vote only when the mentality changes. Unless the mentality is changes, no matter what we do, the scenario would remain same.

The biggest reason people don't cast their votes is because they think that "One vote won't make any difference". But that's not true, people need to understand that "single drops contribute to make an ocean". Unless this comes into the mind of youth, nobody would want to vote.

Right now the best platform to share awareness amongst the youth is Social media platforms. Videos like the one mentioned in the challenge need to be spread far and wide. People share lot of memes these days, but they need to spread awareness about the basic fundamental right of "voting" too.

Schools need to make a difference by conducting sessions right from the junior grade for this.

In fact, it would be amazing if certain countries make voting a compulsory practice. Maybe it's not possible, but we can definitely try this.
