

A network like this would be incredibly valuable to me. As someone who is studying to be environmental engineer and sustainable farmer, networks like these are crucial to be successful. To make connection with other students who are passionate about the same things, and that are from other places would give me great perspective. I would love to get involved in anyway I can to help inspire people to make change and to also get a better understanding of the environment around me. This process definitely has changed my mind on how I think of myself and how also how I can take care of the planet. In addition, as I do work on my environmental action club board I would be able to implement this change with ease I do have people here who support me. Then to have a team from all over the world is a great benefit. To be able to give each other ideas when we need them and the extra push is what many of us will need in this time of transition.

My contribution would probably be me doing lots of outreach work. I have come to the conclusion that I love getting involved with companies and organizations that really have great platforms. I think that if this network to exist, I would love to have a group me chat or a facebook group that we could all communicate ideas that we are working on with our campuses. Something that would really blow me away is if we do a coordinated event day. Like imagine if we all connected to do the Earth Hour event when we all just turn off our lights together, or we do a worldwide earth day event with some education from the other schools and their actions.

Connection is a really critical piece to a well functioning planet because that's what we are. This world is one large web and we are responsible to keep it standing for ourselves and for other beings on this planet. Email me and let me know! I want to be a part of it. If there is anyway I can help I want to be there!
